THE social events of this week alternate between weddings and charity fetes. Miss Elise Marsteller and Mr. Harry Sanderson Mulliken will be married Tuesday at the home of the bride's uncle, Maj. James C. Ord, at Chevy Chase. Rev. Father Buel, S. J., president of Georgetown University, will officiate, assisted by Rev. Father Shandell, dean of the faculty. Miss Marsteller is the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. James S. Marsteller, deceased, and is a great favorite in military circles. She comes from a very distinguished military family. She is a great-granddaughter of Benjamin Harrison, and on her paternal side she is a direct descendant of Col. Marsteller, who was highly commended and praised by Gen. George Washington for his bravery and gallant conduct during the revolutionary war. He was one of the six famous colonels chosen to be palbearers for Gen. Washington. Mr. Mulliken, who belongs to one of the oldest New England families, is a graduate of Boston Tech. At present he is consulting engineer for mining companies in Mexico.

Miss Priscilla Stearns and Mr. Howie Totten will be married at St. John's Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Janet Stearns will be maid of honor and Mr. John Spaulding Flannery best man. The marriage of Miss Edith Harlan Child to Mr. Erastus Corning, Jr., of Albany at the New York Avenue Church, Thursday afternoon, will be followed by a reception at the home of the bride's grandparents, Justice and Mrs. Harlan, for the relatives and out-of-town guests and a few personal friends to meet the bride party. Dr. Radcliffe will perform the marriage ceremony. Rev. Dr. Richard D. Harlan, uncle of the bride, assisting. Miss Elise Marsteller will be the maid of honor, and Miss Elizabeth Knox of Troy, Miss Mary Carlisle Hester of Shrewsbury, John Edith Miller of this city as bridesmaids. Mr. Parker Corning of Albany will be best man. Messrs. Albert R. Lamb of Connecticut, Donald Thompson of Pittsburgh, John Rich and White of Providence, R. I., Lewis Albert Sayre of New York, Francis W. Bird of Massachusetts, Paul T. Jones of New York and Walter R. Tuckerman and Fred de C. Faust of this city will be ushers.

Bishop and Mrs. Cranston were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Christie Herron, Avondale, Cincinnati, last week.

Mrs. Herman P. Goebel and Miss Goebel went to Cincinnati to attend the May festival. The marriage of Miss Florence Goebel to Mr. Kapp takes place on May 16.

Miss Louise Ohmer gave a beautiful luncheon at the Dayton Club, Dayton, Ohio, last Tuesday in honor of Miss Louise Gwiner. The appointments were elegant and the table one of the prettiest ever arranged at this fashionable club. The entire room was aglow with color, the table adorned with a wealth of pink roses and the candelabra shaded with the same lovely tint. There were fifteen guests, and at each place was a tiny envelope, designed in water color and bearing the design of a dear little Cupid, which intimated the message announced on the card within—the betrothal of the lovely guest of honor, Miss Louise Gwiner, and Mr. Roscoe Charles Miller of Washington, D. C., son of Mr. Charles W. Miller of this city. There followed a season of happy wishes to the bride-to-be, and the one regret was that by her marriage she goes to another city to reside. Miss Gwiner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Gwiner, formerly of Miamisburg, but now residents of this city. A number of charming affairs are being planned as pre-nuptial entertainments for Miss Gwiner.

Mrs. John Tweedale entertained the Northhoff Guild at their May meeting on Friday at her pretty home, 1725 P street. Dogwood boughs, laurel and other springtime blossoms formed an effective decoration. Mrs. James Paget presided over the business affairs in her always charming manner, reviewing the work and receiving reports from the various committees. Much satisfaction was expressed for the success of the guild at their fancy booth at "Friendship," about $150 being realized. The sale of the many attractive articles offered. About 1 o'clock a delightful luncheon was served in the dining room, the color scheme of lavender being prettily suggested in the confections and decorations of bows and streamers and the floral basket piece of wisteria flags and purple blossoms. Mrs. Tweedale was assisted by Mrs. A. A. Thomas, Mrs. Swayzee and Miss Nora Palmer. The Northhoff Guild, which is one of the most devoted aids to the Homeopathic Hospital, owes much of its success to its officers, Mrs. James Paget, president, and Mrs. John Tweedale, Mrs. J. T. Hough and Mrs. Wright, vice presidents; Mrs. Clarence Allen, treasurer; Mrs. Julia Burnett, secretary, and Mrs. Schooley, recording secretary.

by whose untiring efforts a room has been recently handsomely furnished and much financial aid accordingly hospital.

Miss Katherine Elkins, who went to New York Tuesday, is the guest of Miss Pauline Morton. Miss Elkins will be maid of honor for her cousin, Miss Elizabeth Davis, at her marriage next Saturday to Mr. John K. Berry at St. Thomas' Church, New York. Miss Pauline Morton will be among the bridesmaids.

Mr. and Mrs. James Neale and daughter, Miss Louise Mace, returned from Italy last week to Pittsburgh, where Miss Mace's marriage to Baron Ricci de Riedenau will take place June 6 and will be one of the social events of the season. The ceremony will be performed in the Catholic Church, Episcopal Church and the pastor, Rev. Dr. John H. McElvaine, will officiate. Baron de Riedenau sailed for America last Wednesday. He spent the first three years of his diplomatic career here as secretary of the Austrian legation. He is now first secretary of the Austrian embassy in Rome.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Keep sailed for England yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth will remain in town this month, and Mrs. Wadsworth proposes making a trip on horseback to the battlefield of Gettysburg before leaving for her home at Avon, N. Y.

The president and board of managers of the Christ Child Society will meet Tuesday afternoon next, from 4 to 7, at the Shoreham. Mrs. J. Durey Keary will preside over the tea and cake table. Mrs. McCartney and Mrs. Irwin will sell ice cream. Mrs. J. Not McGill bags and baskets. Miss Ruth Perkins the lemonade, and Mrs. Henry Simpson will take charge of the refreshments. Miss Pauline Burr will have the relief work exhibits, with specimens of the sewing and millinery.

A college boy home for the holidays entertained a group of classmates in a novel way lately. The boys met early in the day, and toward evening were escorted to the woods some distance from the house and there found a dozen Indian teepees awaiting them. They enjoyed refreshments and later a fine spread, a dinner cooked by campfire. They then spent the night in the Indian camp, enjoying the beauty and wildness of the surroundings. The next day they had an elaborate twelve-course luncheon served at the house, where flowers and ferns were arranged with lavish hand.

The members and friends of the Alpha Coteries were entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Mabel Kunz, 404 9th street northwest. Various games were played, after which a delicious supper was served. Those present were Misses Ethel Dick, Edith Forman, Marian Hurl, Mabel Kunz, Nellie Kunz, Mabel Roberts, Bertha Shaffer, Carrie and Lillian Sale, and Mr. Bodenstein, Mr. George Dick, Mr. Nalley, Mr. William Roberts and Mr. Howard J. Walker.

Mrs. Rayner, wife of the senator from Maryland, will remain here until the close of the session of Congress, when she and the senator will probably go to Atlantic City for a short time. Miss Jennie Bevan, sister of Mrs. Rayner, and Miss Bevan, her niece, both of Baltimore, will remain with her until she leaves Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lewis Howell will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Patterson at their residence on Mt. Vernon place, Baltimore, tomorrow night, after the performance of "Twelfth Night" at the opera. Mrs. Howell takes part in the performance.

At the military euchre party to be given at Washington Barracks Tuesday, May 15, at 2:30 for the benefit of the Army Relief Society, the guests will be received by Mrs. Charles and Mrs. Sternberg, the former and present presidents of Branch No. 2. Through the courtesy of Maj. Burr the use of the ball room at the Officers' Club has been tendered for this entertainment; a smaller room has also been provided for those who may prefer to play bridge.

Miss Mary Walte, who was in Cincinnati for the May festival, was entertained extensively by her old friends there.

The Spanish royal coaches, writes an English visitor in Madrid, are of exceeding beauty. The state carriage, in which Princess Ena will drive to the cathedral with King Alfonso on their marriage day, is unique, and built almost entirely of the finest tortoise shell. A veritable fairy chariot! It is all inlaid with ivory, carved, with the royal arms and crown of Spain on the panels. The front and sides have large plate glass windows set in the ivory, and the whole is lined throughout with white satin surmounted with golden crowns. Besides this gorgeous coach are those that convey the queen, the president of the same description, lined in different shades, have a very splendid effect on masses.

Commander H. G. Hebbelghaus, naval attache of the German embassy at Washington, and Mrs. Hebbelghaus have returned after a very pleasant week's visit to Massachusetts, during which they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Howard of Amory street, Brookline. Commander Hebbelghaus' visit was in a way official, as he went as representative of the German emperor to make arrangements for the international yachting match to be sailed off Marblehead in September between boats of Germany and the United States. His entertainment was chiefly by men connected with the Eastern Yacht Club. As the club's station at Marblehead was not open, the dinners and luncheons tendered the emperor's representative were given chiefly
